Nero-chan

Fifth emperor of Rome.
Loves Greek culture and art and actually wanted to become something culture-related. Likes to be the center of attention and is easily hurt by strange things. The hardest blow for him is somebody making fun of his poems.

Apparently he had fair hair and blue eyes and was on the chubby side. He's also the type who wants to be ordered around by his girlfriend.

Agrippina

Mother who wants to make her son into an emperor at any cost. She's extraordinarily smart and immensely tough both in mind and body.

With her determination to make Nero into an emperor with all possible means, she is constantly rekindling his panic. She is full of vindictiveness but since she once had whole fortune temporarily taken away from her, it's somehow understandable.
